

Click on these 5 links to learn more about vacant properties and the Louisville Landbank!

1. Look through the Landbank's available vacant lot list and start planning what you'd like to do with one of those properties.

Check out this link: Louisville Landbank Vacant Lot List.

2. Sign up to subscribe to the Landbank's listserv, and you will receive emailed notifications of structures and lots as soon as they're available. New properties are expected to be launched on April 14!

Subscribe at this link: Subscribe to Louisville Landbank Listserv

3. Watch a recent Landbank meeting to see what kinds of projects are in progress.

Check out this link and type in "VAPStat" in the search box: Public Meetings

4. Interested in Frequently Asked Questions about vacant properties and the Landbank?

Check out this link: VAP and Landbank FAQs

5. Wondering what is happening with a boarded-up house or vacant lot? Do some property research on it using tools you may already have at home!

Check out this link to learn how: 5 Tools for Finding Vacant Property Owners

Also, Coming Soon! Virtual open houses for Landbank properties! Instead of walking through the houses in person, you will be able to watch a narrated video online and then submit an online application.