

The Center for Health Equity is hosting My Dream for Lou, a policy summit, to create a space to craft a community-driven agenda for change. The summit will provide Louisville residents of any age, race and neighborhood the opportunity to come together and work alongside elected leadership to identify policy solutions for significant issues facing our city. To do so, attendees will answer the question “where do you see hope in your community?” using pictures with an attached narrative. These pictures will be used to craft the agenda for convening.
