

SMALL BUSINESS RESOURCE ECOSYSTEM

Louisville has a robust ecosystem of community resources to help small businesses start and succeed, from an entrepreneur to a retailer to a service provider.

Louisville Metro Department of Economic Development

Louisville Metro Department of Economic Development assists businesses with resources including troubleshooting regulatory processes with other agencies, finding a location for new or expanding business, facilitating connections with other small businesses, business associations and resources, and obtaining funding to help the business open or grow.

- The METCO loan program also is housed in this department, and businesses can apply for loans up to $100,000.
- Nia Center Business Clinic is a one-stop resource where you can find anything from finishing your GED, to starting a business, to getting a job.
